Swallows Arrive At Alondra Park

Arrival of scores of nesting swallows at the Alondra Park community building, 3535 West Redondo Beach boulevard, were reported this week. The newly arrived swallows are affording constant entertainment to both adults and children as they pick up mud from Alondra Park lake and daub it beneath the eaves around the sides of the building. They are expected to remain until they have finished the task of raising their young ones.

Pageant of Light at the Ice Capades honors 75 Years of Electric Progress

Diamond Jubilee of Light

The first electric light of Thomas A. Edison 75 years ago proved to the world that electricity had practical use, and launched the march of progress which has brought us the daily miracles of electric living. This year we join the nation in saluting the Diamond Jubilee of Light honoring the great inventor and the 75 years of electrical development which have raised our standards of living to their highest point in history. The "Pageant of Light" opening the Ice Capades pays tribute to Light's Diamond Jubilee, and its theme traces the remarkable advancements which have made electricity mankind's most valued and least costly servant.
